

Letter of support

The Swedish Feedback Informed Treatment (FIT) network wishes to express their intention to collaborate with Karolinska Institutet, Centre for Psychiatry Research, Digital Psychiatry Lab, in the proposed research project “Systematic client feedback and outcome monitoring in social services”.

The FIT network organizes anyone in Sweden who is working with FIT. The network includes social workers, psychologists, counselors and therapists from all over Sweden. The FIT network was established in 2016 and organize annual network meetings for its members.

The proposed project would be in line with the networks aim of promoting the knowledge and implementation of Feedback Informed Treatment in Sweden. Many member units are working in social services, with for example families or addictions. The FIT network would be happy to facilitate the proposed project for example by assisting the researchers with expertise in training and implementing FIT in social services. The network will also be able to help identifying and reaching out to suitable social welfare offices that may want to take part in the project.
